

Exercices anglais Permission, Obligation, Interdiction en PDF

Exercice 1 : Complétez les phrases suivantes avec can, can't, must, mustn't, may, ou have to :

You _____ smoke in this restaurant. It's forbidden.

Students _____ use their phones during the exam.

_____ I borrow your pen, please?

Children _____ wear a helmet when riding a bike.

You _____ park here. It's a no-parking zone.

We _____ finish our homework before going out.

_____ you help me with this exercise?

Visitors _____ enter without permission.

You _____ be 18 to vote in most countries.

_____ I have a glass of water?

Exercice 2 : Indiquez si chaque phrase exprime une permission (P), une obligation (O) ou une interdiction (I) :

You must wear a seatbelt in the car. ()

You can use my computer if you want. ()

Students mustn't cheat during tests. ()

May I sit here? ()

You have to show your passport at the airport. ()

You can't smoke in public places. ()

Children must go to school. ()

You may leave early today. ()

You mustn't touch the paintings in the museum. ()

Can I open the window? ()

Exercice 3 : Transformez les phrases ci-après en utilisant le modal indiqué entre parenthèses. :It's forbidden to use phones in the library. (mustn't) → You

It's possible for you to leave now. (can) → You _____

It's necessary to book in advance. (must) → You _____

Is it OK if I take a photo? (may) → _____

It's not allowed to park here. (can't) → You _____

It's obligatory to wear a uniform. (have to) → Students _____

It's permitted to bring guests. (allowed) → You _____

It's prohibited to enter this area. (mustn't) → You _____

Exercice 4 : Choisissez la bonne réponse pour chaque situation :

Dans un hôpital : a) You can make noise. b) You must be quiet. c) You may shout.

Avant de prendre l'avion : a) You mustn't show your ticket. b) You can ignore security checks. c) You must go through security.

Dans une bibliothèque : a) You can't talk loudly. b) You must play music. c) You may make phone calls.

Pour demander la permission : a) I must use your phone. b) May I use your phone? c) You can't use my phone.

Dans un musée : a) You may touch the artwork. b) You must take photos everywhere. c) You mustn't touch the exhibits

Exercice 5 : Créez des phrases avec les éléments donnés :

Students / must / homework / complete

You / can't / here / smoke

May / I / window / open / the ?

Visitors / mustn't / after 6 PM / enter

We / have to / early / arrive

Can / you / me / help ?

Children / must / vegetables / eat

You / allowed / to / are / calculator / use / a

CORRECTIONS

Exercice 1 – Je complète les phrases suivantes avec can, can't, must, mustn't, may, ou have to :

can't/mustn't (interdiction)

can't/mustn't (interdiction)

May/Can (demande de permission)

must/have to (obligation)

can't/mustn't (interdiction)

must/have to (obligation)

Can (demande de permission)

can't/mustn't (interdiction)

must/have to (obligation)

May/Can (demande de permission)

Exercice 2 – J'indique si chaque phrase exprime une permission (P), une obligation (O) ou une interdiction (I) :

(O) Obligation

(P) Permission

(I) Interdiction

(P) Permission

(O) Obligation

(I) Interdiction

(O) Obligation

(P) Permission

(I) Interdiction

(P) Permission

Exercice 3 - Je transforme les phrases ci-après en utilisant le modal indiqué entre parenthèses. :

You mustn't use phones in the library.

You can leave now.

You must book in advance.

May I take a photo?

You can't park here.

Students have to wear a uniform.

You are allowed to bring guests.

You mustn't enter this area.

Exercice 4 – Je choisis la bonne réponse pour chaque situation :

b) You must be quiet.

c) You must go through security.

a) You can't talk loudly.

b) May I use your phone?

c) You mustn't touch the exhibits.

Exercice 5 – Je crée des phrases avec les éléments donnés :

Students must complete their homework.

You can't smoke here.

May I open the window?

Visitors mustn't enter after 6 PM.

We have to arrive early.

Can you help me?

Children must eat vegetables.

You are allowed to use a calculator.